In a gruesome incident, father of a girl was beaten to death for opposing eve teasing of his daughter as he lodged the complaint against the accused a month ago. Police have arrested the two accused while other two are still at large.

As per the information received, the accused, Mahesh Koriku, was arrested a month ago in the eve teasing case and he was released on Saturday. He along with his friends planned to take revenge and attacked on complainant Mangilal. When Mangilal's son and daughter tried to protect him, the accused also beat them.

All three injured were rushed to the district hospital. On Sunday, Mangilal succumbed to the injuries.

Police superintendent Mahendra Singh Sikarwar informed that on Saturday a dispute arose between two groups over eve teasing. Police have registered the case against four accused including Akhilesh, Tanu, Kailash and Mahesh under various section of IPC. Two accused were arrested while the other two managed to flee.
